Thousands of Christians will gather together in Saskatoon on Pentecost Sunday, May 31, 2020

Christian churches in Saskatoon will join together at SaskTel Centre on the afternoon of May 31, 2020 to pray and worship God through song, prayer, scripture, and fellowship at a prayer service entitled “Pentecost 2020: One in the Holy Spirit.”

Pentecost 2020 organizers say they envision the gathering as an overdue “family reunion” for the Christian churches in Saskatoon – but it is a family reunion with an open invitation to anyone who might be curious about God, Jesus Christ and the Holy Spirit. Pentecost 2020 is a time and place to see the church as one expression of Christian faith in all its diversity.

The website – <https://pentecost2020vision.com> – describes the event: “We want to praise God together, encourage each other, and confess our faith in Christ as our healer and saviour.”

Organizers also say: “As the body of Christ, we want to acknowledge our differences but focus our attention on Jesus who alone is able to reconcile all things.”

Doors for the free event open at 2:00 p.m., with the celebration beginning at 3:00 p.m. on May 31, the Sunday on which many Christians celebrate Pentecost – a day commemorating the coming of the Holy Spirit upon the disciples of Jesus, held 50 days after Easter.

Showing love, respect and care for one another, despite differences, is how people will know that you are my followers, said Jesus some 2000 years ago, note the organizers of Pentecost 2020.

“As a church – one body with many members – we acknowledge and confess that we often have misused the trust and abused the power we have been entrusted with. In many ways we have failed in the witness we are called to. At the same time, it is our hope and belief that in confessing our common faith in God and in God’s ability to heal that which is broken, we find the way to renewed life and witness,” says fr. Jakob Palm of Holy Covenant Evangelical Orthodox Church.
