Gospel Reflection, Mark 2:1-1 The account of the paralyzed man brings another lesson of faith to the forefront. A paralyzed man was brought to Jesus, carried by four of his friends. But when they saw the vast crowd they didn't give up hope. What could they do? Their friend was in great need. They had to do something! One of them had a solution to this difficult situation – they opened up the section of roof that was above Jesus and lowered the paralyzed man down. Jesus was amazed at their faith and the man was healed. Sometimes we need our friends to bring us to the Lord and help us when we are faced with some difficulties that may cross our path in life. Others can often be a means of great support especially when we feel hopeless. Fr. Andrei

Thus, some of our Thursday morning Liturgies have to be cancelled as some of the schools have confessions at that time. Pray that this may be an occasion for our children, especially those from Ukraine, to remember that God still loves them in spite of many of them losing so much.
