Gospel Reflection, Mark 10:32-45 The fourth week of Lent in the Byzantine Rite is dedicated to St. John of Climacus, aka St. John of the Ladder. He compared gaining virtues or holiness as gaining a rung on a ladder closer to God. The more virtuous we become, the higher on the ladder of holiness we'll go. The gospel reading focuses on the ambitions of the Apostles James and John. They were from well-to-do families and their mother was a strong supporter of Jesus assisting financially in works that He began. Because of that status, James and John asked Jesus if they could each be at his side in the Kingdom of Heaven. This was certainly not what John of the Ladder later taught. Jesus responded by saying that those spots were not His to give away. We should all do what we can from the heart. In that way, “God our Father in Heaven Who sees everything will certainly reward us”! Fr. Andrei

During the month of March, Father Andrei will be visiting as many schools as possible in order to assist with hearing Easter confessions for the students, especially for those students who are from Ukraine and would like to talk with someone in their own language. Thus, some of our Thursday morning Liturgies have to be cancelled as some of the schools have confessions at that time. Pray that this may be an occasion for our children, especially those from Ukraine, to remember that God still loves them in spite of many of them losing so much.

Lenten food drive will continue until Sunday, April 2nd. Donations can be left in the bins at the back of the church. They will be donated to the Prince Albert Food Bank. Personal items such as toothpaste, deodorant, shampoo, etc. can also be donated.
